Uncle Rube Coming.

On Friday night, March 17, the Uncle Rube Dramatic Club will present Charles Townsend's very popular rural comedy, Uncle Rube, at Tabb Opera House. This play is one of the most successful of this popular writer, and has scored hundreds of successes before the American public. This company has presented it in other places, always to crowded houses and enthusiastic audiences, and the people of Mt. Sterling are promised a rare treat, such as seldom comes here. The unstinted enthusiasm of the press, the critics and the public in praise of its merits in other places is proof beyond question of its popularity as presented by the Uncle Rube Dramatic Club. The play itself is the kind that every one, young and old, heartily enjoys and talks about afterwards. It is brimming full and running over with hearty fun and humorous situations, with a vein of genuine humanity running through it that appeals to the better nature. There is not a dull minute from start to finish, and every line and speech is so clean and wholesome that it will not offend the most fastidious taste. Ladies, gentlemen and children of all ages will equally appreciate and enjoy it.

In addition to the merits of the play and the unusual excellence of the performance, the two causes under whose auspices the play is given, namely the local camp of the Modern Woodmen of America and the Library Fund, are worthy the support of all good citizens who are interested in the welfare of our city. All who are interested in the above causes, especially should use their best efforts to make this a grand success financially, as it is sure to be artistically.

The price of tickets has been placed at 25 cents for the gallery and 50 cents for reserved seats. At these prices the house should, and doubtless will, be crowded.

Tickets should be purchased in advance to secure good seats.

Esq. Wells Entertains.

Esq. Mart Wells entertained a few friends with an excellent dinner at Ringo's cafe Saturday, serving, among other delicacies, an abundance of wild goose, killed by the host near Spencer. His guests were: G. A. McCormick, E. W. Senff, C. L. Dean, W. D. Henry, C. C. Turner, R. J. Hunt, Jas. W. Mason, H. K. Greene and Jas. R. Pced.

Mrs. K. O. Clarke

will have her Millinery Opening Wednesday and Thursday, March 15th and 16th. Don't fail to attend.

Talk Twenty-Five.

Hoffman is especially anxious to meet the man who has a prejudice against Life Insurance. 'Twould be folly to say that there are none such, for there are plenty of men who have taken up the subject in real earnest, and dropped it in disgust.

And it isn't to be wondered at. Moreover, he has thought kindly upon any topic and afterwards become arrayed against it, is only susceptible to the convictions of sincere truth.

For such men as these Hoffman has all the time they are willing to devote to it. Such men need HONEST Life Insurance; but first they must know what it is, and when they do their prejudices will surrender. How does Hoffman know this? He implicitly trusts the candor of a man's reflective convictions when simple facts are laid before him!

Drop into Hoffman's office any time that's convenient to you. Or, if you prefer, and wish to make an appointment, you can do that as well. The fact that insurance once interested you deeply enough to be disappointing because it didn't fulfill what you expected of it—that's the best reason in the world why you ought to talk with Hoffman.

Death of Worthy Young Man.

Mr. Charles Green, a telegraph operator at the C. & O. depot in this city, died at his home on Elm street Saturday morning, after a short illness of meningitis, caused by inflammation of the brain.

Mr. Green had only lived in this city about two years, but during that time had made many warm friends. He was twenty-two years of age and was an excellent young man of splendid morals.

Mr. Green was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Green, of Webbville, Lawrence county, Ky., both of whom were at his bedside when the end came. His body was prepared for burial and taken to his old home Saturday at noon for interment. He was a member of the Masonic lodge, and Messrs W. O. Hopper, J. C. McNeil and Thomas P. Sutton accompanied the body as a committee from the local lodge. He is survived by a young wife, his parents, one brother and a sister, Mrs. Regley, of Carter county.

Sad indeed, when a young man, just in the springtime of life, with prospects for the future so bright, is called to face his Maker. But the Lord knows best, although His ways often seem hard to understand.

Death of Barney Campbell.

Mr. Barney Campbell died at his home in Winchester, Tuesday, March 7, with cancer of the face. The remains were brought to this city Thursday morning and interred in St. Thomas' Cemetery. He is survived by his second wife and three children, Mr. Peter Campbell, of St. Louis; Misses Catherine and Alice Campbell, of Chicago, all of whom attended the funeral.

Mr. Campbell was well known in this city, where he had spent all of his life until a few years ago when he went to Winchester. He was a man of sterling qualities, and leaves a host of loving friends who extend to the bereaved family their deepest sympathy.

Gets in Politics.

J. Warner Hinson, ex-police-man, who recently moved to Camargo, has announced that he is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the Greenbriar district subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Mr. Hinson is quite popular, makes friends rapidly, and will doubtless receive the nomination. If nominated and elected he will make a capable and efficient officer.

Mrs. Laura Magowan Injured in Runaway.

While coming down Fort Hill Saturday afternoon the harness broke on a horse driven by Mrs. Robert Gatewood and a runaway resulted. Mrs. Magowan, mother of Mrs. Gatewood, jumped from the buggy and fell, her head striking the curb, cutting off a piece of her right ear and badly bruising her arms and neck. Mrs. Gatewood, who remained in the buggy, was uninjured. Mrs. Magowan is improving nicely.

Judge Parker Dies Suddenly.

Judge Watts Parker, of Lexington, died at about 8 o'clock Monday morning of a complication of diseases. Judge Parker has been ill for several weeks. He dressed, however, expecting to be out early in the morning when an attack of heart failure struck him suddenly.

Judge Parker has been presiding judge of the Fayette Circuit Court since 1892 and was considered an honest and able judge.

O'Rear-Saufley.

The following special from Frankfort will be of much interest to our readers, as Miss O'Rear is quite popular in Mt. Sterling, her old home:

Frankfort society is much interested in the plans that are being made for the marriage of Ensign Caswell Sauflley and Miss Helen O'Rear, as this is to be the event of the spring season here. The date for the wedding has been announced for April 25, unless the present movement of the navy should cause some shift in the time.

Just now there is no thought of a postponement and the plans are being made for a handsome wedding in Frankfort on April 25. The names of the attendants have not been announced, but it is certain to be a pretty wedding, and it is understood that it is to be an elaborate one, with many attendants and maids, and all gowned handsomely. The wedding will probably be at the country home of Judge E. C. O'Rear, father of the bride.

Miss O'Rear's friends in Frankfort will entertain for her and the bridal party extensively before the wedding, and it is expected that several of the naval officers who are intimate friends of Ensign Sauflley will come to Frankfort for the event. They will lend interest to the parties and receptions for the bridal party, as the Frankfort girls all like the men of the army and navy and are attracted by the military glitter.

Perry M. Shy New State Fair Secretary.

The Kentucky State Board of Agriculture sprang a surprise at its session at the offices of the Secretary of the State Fair Association at Louisville Saturday afternoon by electing Perry M. Shy, of Frankfort, Secretary of the board, to the position of Secretary of the Fair Association to succeed Secretary J. W. Newman. The name of Secretary Newman was not presented for re-election. Hubert Vreeland, of Frankfort, was Mr. Shy's only opponent. The vote was 6 to 2 in favor of Shy.

Mr. Shy, who is a Republican, received three Democratic votes, those of G. N. McGrew, of Bayou, who nominated him; J. L. Dent, of Leitchfield, and M. A. Scoville, of Lexington. He was of course given the vote of the Republican members of the board—M. C. Rankin, of Frankfort, Commissioner of Agriculture; Henry Vansant, of Edmonson county, and Fred R. Blackburn, of Stanton. William Addams, of Cynthiana, Democratic candidate for Governor and a member of the board, did not vote.
